You are most like The Bringer of War, ominous and unnerving. You like to command attention—similar to the brass fanfares in this movement—are competitive in most things you do, and make impulsive decisions.

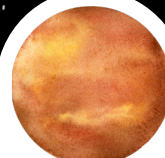

You are most like the Winged Messenger. As energetic and lively as the woodwind lines in this movement, you are always the center of attention and love to gossip.

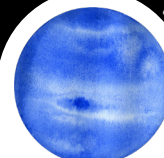

Abracadabra—you're most like the Magician! You and your boisterous friends are a very tight-knit group, always playing pranks on each other. You can sometimes be unpredictable, like the dances Holst wrote in this movement.

As the Bringer of Jollity, you are the cheery uncle of all the planets and king of the gods. Similar to the two contrasting styles of this piece, you know how to have fun with friends but can be serious and comforting when needed. You always know the right thing to say.

The rocking lullaby feel of this movement is comforting and conflict free, just like how you like to live your life as the Bringer of Peace. You are happy to join a group activity or find a cozy place and enjoy some "me-time."

Mysterious and other-worldly, you are most like the Mystic Neptune. You keep to yourself, stay in the shadows, like the offstage women's choir in this movement, and like to keep out of trouble.
