DEAR FRIENDS OF THE HOUSTON SYMPHONY

The 2024-25 Season has been a truly remarkable journey—one that not only celebrated the incredible artistry of our musicians but also marked the start of a new chapter for the Houston Symphony. I am honored to share some of the highlights of this season with you in this Impact Report and express my deep appreciation for your unwavering support of the Houston Symphony.

The 2024-25 Season has been a milestone season for the Symphony, as it marked the first season performing in the new and fully renovated acoustics of Jones Hall. Audiences have been able to experience the sonic splendor of the Houston Symphony like never before, in performances ranging from Dvorak's New World Symphony on Opening Night to special appearances by superstar guest artists like Cynthia Erivo and Killer Mike. This season demonstrated not only the world-class talent of our musicians but also the deep connection we have with our community. The Symphony's Education and Community Engagement initiatives flourished this year. We served nearly 45,000 Houston-area students through our Harry and Cora Sue Mach Student Concert Series, expanded the In Harmony program to two new communities, and continued several successful education and community programs which you'll get a chance to learn more about in this report.

As I reflect on my arrival to the Houston Symphony in February, I am filled with gratitude for the warm welcome I have received from all of you. It has been a privilege to get to know the extraordinary patrons and donors who make up this wonderful Symphony family—those who support our mission, help us grow, and ensure that we can continue to thrive as a cultural leader in Houston and beyond. Your commitment to the Symphony's success is inspiring, and I look forward to advancing the Symphony's vision in the years to come.

None of this would be possible without you. Your generous contributions—whether through your donations or your attendance at a Symphony concert—continue to play a vital role in helping us fulfill our mission to inspire and engage people in Houston and beyond through the power of music.

As we look forward to the season ahead, we are excited to continue our work together, creating more opportunities to transform lives through music.

With gratitude,

Gary Ginstling

MUSIC DIRECTOR FUND

The Music Director Fund provides support for Juraj Valčuha's artistic vision for the Symphony such as multi-weekend festivals and opera projects; hiring and retaining top-level orchestra musicians; and invitations to guest soloists and conductors of the highest caliber.

The Fund supported several artistic endeavors in the 2024–25 Classical Season, including:

- 3 mini-festivals—the Bohemian Rhapsody Festival, Vienna Calling Festival, and the Fairytales Festival
- An immersive production of Duke Bluebeard's Castle, with singers Gábor Bretz (baritone) and Ekaterina Gubanova (mezzo-soprano) and lighting design by Matthew Webb.
 - The appointment of 5 new Symphony musicians

OPENING NIGHT CONCERT AND GALA

The Classical Season kicked off on October 4, 2024, at Jones Hall with Valčuha leading the orchestra and the Houston Symphony Chorus, alongside Czech baritone Svatopluk Sem and the Houston Chamber Choir, in an enchanting performance of Martinů's Czech Rhapsody. The program also featured a performance of Dvořák's New World Symphony—a timeless masterpiece inspired by the diverse musical influences of America.

Following the performance, more than 300 guests were transported to the Corinthian Houston for a spectacular gala and seated dinner, chaired by Mary Lynn & Steve Marks, which raised more than $550,000 to support the Symphony's Education and Community Engagement initiatives and artistic programming.

HAMBURG STEINWAY PIANO ACQUISITION & DEBUT

In September 2024, the Symphony acquired a new Steinway piano from Hamburg, Germany with a little help from world-renown pianist—and friend of the Symphony—Yefim Bronfman. Bronfman traveled to the Steinway Hamburg factory with former Symphony Executive Director/CEO John Mangum; John & Lindy Rydman of Spec’s Wines, Spirits and Finer Foods; and Steinway representative Amanda Watson to test drive pianos before making a final selection. This new addition to the Symphony’s fleet of instruments allows guest artists a choice between performing on a New York or Hamburg Steinway—a standard practice in most major orchestras.

The Hamburg Steinway’s debut performance was on November 29, 2024, when Bronfman performed Beethoven’s Emperor Concerto as part of the Vienna Calling Festival.

FESTIVAL WEEKENDS

The 2024–25 Season featured three mini-festival weekends curated by Juraj Valčuha, allowing audiences to delve into different composers, eras, and cultural influences on music. The first of the season, the Bohemian Rhapsody Festival highlighted lively works by Czech composers like Antonín Dvořák, Bohuslav Martinů, and Vítězslava Kaprálová. The Vienna Calling Festival paid tribute to the composers of Vienna and the major contributions they made to classical music. Finally, the Fairytales Festival transported audiences to mystical worlds and faraway lands with several fairytale-inspired pieces like Prokofiev’s Cinderella, Zemlinsky’s The Mermaid, and the world premiere of Karim Al-Zand’s Al-Jazari’s Ingenious Clocks.

Special thanks to John & Lindy Rydman and Spec’s Wine, Spirits & Finer Foods/Spec’s Charitable Foundation for generously funding the purchase of our Hamburg Steinway.

CHAMBER MUSIC SERIES

This season, the Symphony launched an intimate concert experience featuring our musicians in small ensembles. Held on the recently expanded Janice H. Barrow Piano Tier at Jones Hall, these casual performances offered audiences a closer look at the composers and themes explored in the season's mini festivals, while also showcasing the artistry of our world-class musicians. The series included Bohemian Rhapsodies, Passport to Vienna, Fairy Tale Fantasy, and Springtime in Europe: Rossini+More.

NEW MUSIC

On September 27, the Houston Symphony celebrated Hispanic Heritage Month with its annual Fiesta Sinfónica concert, presented by Chevron, featuring the world premiere of a new Guitar Concerto by renowned Mexican composer Arturo Márquez. Led by Associate Conductor Gonzalo Farias, the performance marked a milestone as acclaimed guitarist Pablo Sáinz-Villegas gave a stunning debut of the co-commissioned work. Márquez attended the performance to witness his new piece come to life, making the evening especially memorable.

The Symphony kicked off the Fairytales Festival with the world premiere of Al-Jazari's Ingenious Clocks, a newly commissioned work, by Houston-based composer Karim Al-Zand. Drawing inspiration from myths, folk music, and his own Middle Eastern heritage, Al-Zand's composition honors the 12th-century polymath Ismail Al-Jazari, often called the "father of robotics" for his groundbreaking mechanical inventions. Al-Jazari's visionary legacy came to life through Al-Zand's

Al-Jazari's Ingenious Clocks was made possible, in part, due to a generous grant from the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA). The Symphony is grateful for the NEA's longstanding support and its commitment to advancing the arts in America.

"It's nice to be able to write a piece where I'm not just writing a flute part, I'm writing something for Matthew Roitstein (Associate Principal Flute) to play. Or I'm not just writing a cello solo, I'm writing something for Brinton [Averil Smith] to play (Principal Cello)... It's always good to be inspired by the particular characteristics of the players that you're writing for, as opposed to something a little bit more generic."

HOUSTON SYMPHONY CHORUS

Under the guidance of Interim Director Julia C. Hall, the talented volunteer singers of the Houston Symphony Chorus made seven appearances during the 2024–25 Season. Highlights included Martinů's Czech Rhapsody, Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, Handel's Messiah, and Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban™ In Concert, showcasing their versatility across both classical choral-orchestral masterworks and pop favorites.

ESCHENBACH & BRUCKNER BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

In January, the Symphony welcomed back Christoph Eschenbach for a special concert celebrating the 200th anniversary of the birth of Austrian composer, Anton Bruckner, as well as the 85th birthday of the beloved maestro. As one of the world's greatest living Bruckner interpreters today, Eschenbach decided to commemorate the composer's life, legacy, and timeless music with a global tour, conducting all eight of Bruckner's symphonies with renowned orchestras from around the world. The Houston Symphony—where he served as music director for more than a decade—was fortunate enough to be the only American orchestra included on Eschenbach's tour, performing Bruckner's Symphony No. 4 (Romantic).

GUEST ARTISTS & SYMPHONY SOLOISTS

This season, more than 20 guest conductors and soloists appeared in the Classical Season, with 11 in their Houston Symphony debuts. Additionally, 11 Symphony musicians also took center stage as soloists, showcasing their exceptional talent and artistry.

PNC FAMILY SERIES

The Houston Symphony welcomed young audiences for the 2024–25 PNC Family Series, a lively set of concerts designed for kids ages two to nine. These fun, interactive performances invite children to dance, move, and connect with music in an engaging, kid-friendly environment. Each concert is enhanced with free lobby activities, including the ever-popular Instrument Petting Zoo, and audiences are encouraged to dress up to match the concert themes. This season’s lineup featured Clap Your Hands, Say Yeah! The Great American Music Adventure; Holly Jolly Holiday; Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Missing Maestro; and Cirque for Kids, with shows held on select Saturday mornings at 10 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.

The Symphony also made significant strides in making our PNC Family Series performances more accessible for those in the neurodivergent community by piloting sensory-inclusive elements at concerts. These elements include flexible seating, sensory calming areas, sensory-friendly lobby activities, and a pre-concert social narrative to help individuals and their families navigate the concert experience. The Symphony plans to incorporate these sensory-inclusive elements into our full PNC Family Series next season and continue refining them with feedback from experts and community members.

SYMPHONY SPECIALS

MEET OUR NEW MUSICIANS

Our extraordinary musicians are the beating heart of the Houston Symphony. Their artistry, dedication, and passion bring every performance to life, on stage and in the community. During the 2024–25 Season, we welcomed five new musicians, adding some talented fresh faces to our rich musical legacy. Get to know our newest additions and discover some fun facts about the remarkable musicians who make up our orchestra.

ALEXANDROS SAKARELLOS

Violin • Athens, Greece

Alexandros Sakarellos has performed as a soloist, chamber, and orchestral musician across five continents and 25 countries. A native of Greece and graduate of the Manhattan School of Music, he has appeared with major ensembles including the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra and Verbier Festival Chamber Orchestra, collaborating with artists such as Martha Argerich and Leonidas Kavakos. Before joining the Houston Symphony, he was a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the San Francisco Opera.

PAUL AGUILAR

Viola • Greenville, South Carolina

Venezuelan-American violist Paul Aguilar is a member of the Symphony's viola section and maintains an active solo and chamber performance schedule, performing more than 40 recitals annually across North America and Europe. A top prizewinner in major international chamber music competitions including the Banff International String Quartet Competition and the Bordeaux International String Quartet Competition, he has appeared at festivals like Ravinia, La Jolla SummerFest, and the Great Lakes Chamber Music Festival, and more. His chamber music collaborators include renowned artists like James Ehnes and Augustin Hadelich.

Which piece or concert did you most enjoy performing this season?

Given my background in chamber music, I haven't had the chance to perform much of the orchestral repertoire before. It was such a treat to work on amazing orchestral masterpieces that the Houston Symphony programmed this past season. There were so many standout experiences, but the season-closing Mahler 3 week with Maestro Juraj Valčuha—and in particular our performance of the final movement—was extremely meaningful to me.

What's a unique/special memory you had during your first Houston Symphony season?

My colleagues in the symphony have been so kind and welcoming and I've already made what I feel are lifelong friends. I feel so fortunate to be part of this wonderful organization!

JIMMY CUNNINGHAM

Viola • Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

James (Jimmy) Cunningham holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan, an Artist Diploma from the McDuffie Center for Strings, and was recently a student of James Dunham at Rice University. A former Tanglewood Music Center and Aspen Music Festival orchestral fellow, he has performed with the Pittsburgh Symphony, Aspen Opera Orchestra, and Aspen Chamber Symphony, and in numerous chamber ensembles with artists including Cho-Liang Lin, Amy Schwartz Moretti, and others.

Which piece or concert did you most enjoy performing this season?

One concert from this past season which will stay with me very fondly was our Viva Italia: Opera Beyond Words program with Maestro Valčuha! Including both household and lesser-known Italian opera hits, the second half of the program took a lovely emotional turn, with three beautiful intermezzos where we got to pour our hearts out on stage for a moment, before galloping off with the overture to William Tell.

What's a unique/special memory you had during your first Houston Symphony season?

Last December as I was washing my hands before a show, I turned around and realized I was face-to-face with Yo-Yo Ma—we were about to play the Dvořák Cello Concerto. Immediately, he was raving about our orchestra, and specifically how great it is to be a violist and to play music as an inner voice. We often play a supporting role, enriching the overall texture; and it is so satisfying to get to do that every week with the Houston Symphony!

AVERY WEEKS

Double Bass • Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Originally from Oklahoma City, Avery Weeks joined the Houston Symphony in 2024 and has previously performed with the Los Angeles Philharmonic and the Utah Symphony. He trained at Northwestern University and the University of Southern California, and has been a fellow at Aspen Music Festival, The Music Academy of the West, and Spoleto Festival USA.

NICK PLATOFF

Principal Trombone • New Haven, Connecticut

Nick Platoff came to the Houston Symphony after having previously served as Associate Principal Trombone of the San Francisco Symphony. A versatile musician, conductor, producer, composer, and educator, he has collaborated with artists like Jacob Collier, Yo-Yo Ma, and Metallica, and released his debut album, Limousine of Creative Potential, in November 2022. Platoff also serves as a faculty member at Rice University's Shepherd School of Music.

Which piece or concert did you most enjoy performing this season?

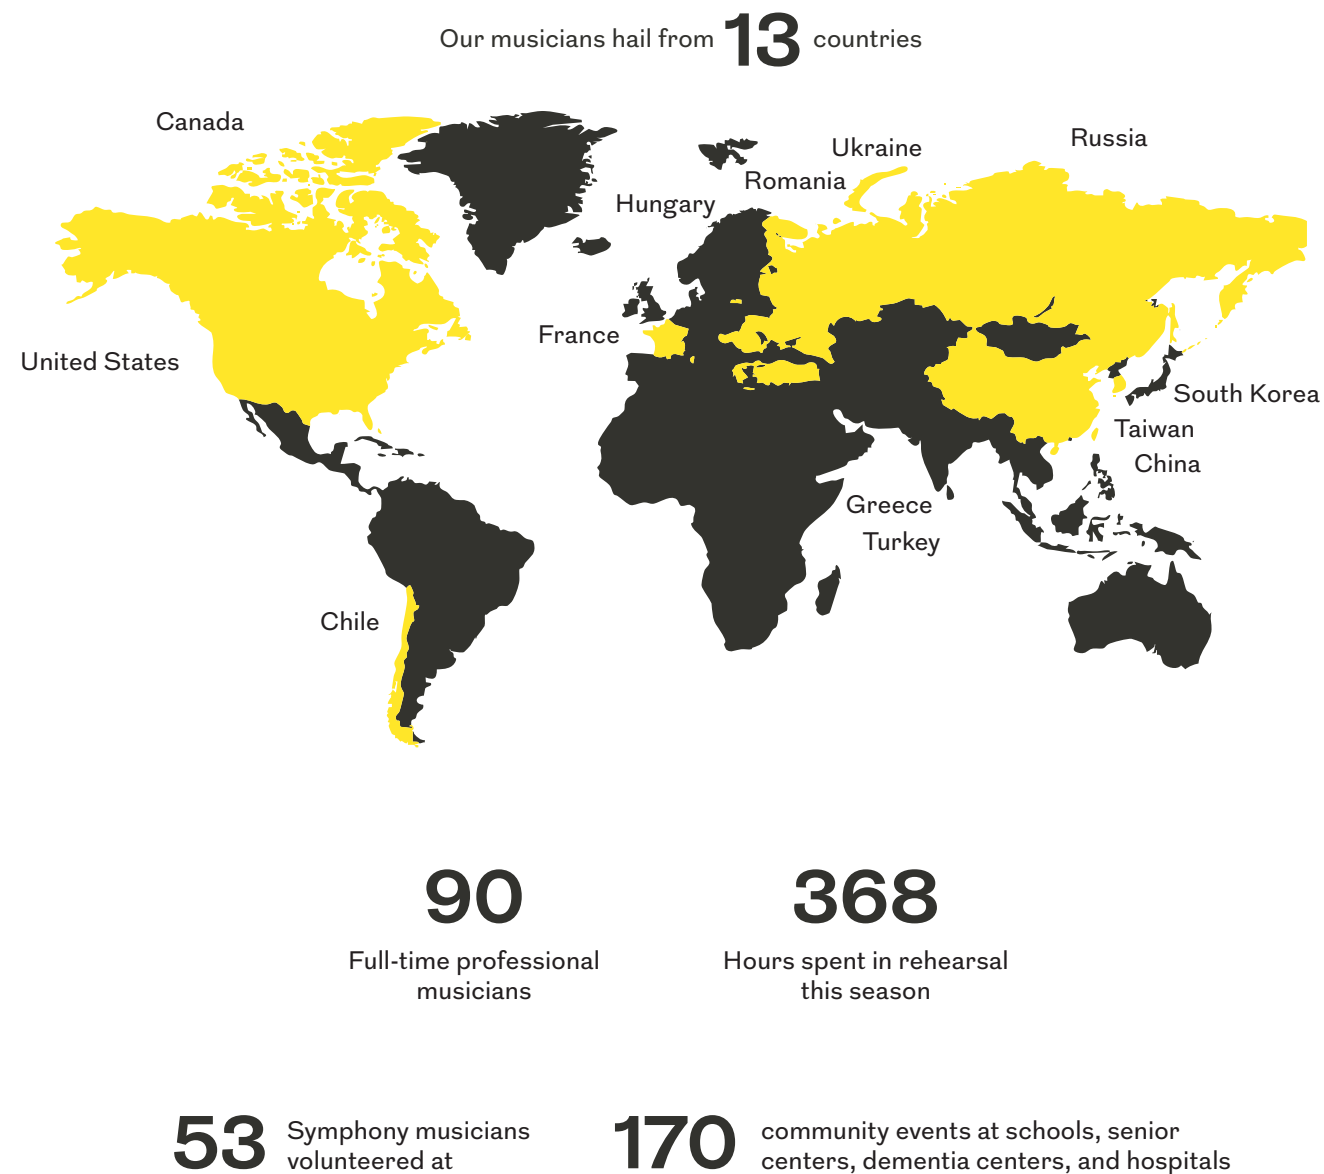

I refuse to choose just one! Janáček's Sinfonietta, Holiday Brass, Byron Stripling, Beethoven 9, Cynthia Erivo, Schumann 2, Mahler 3. I delight in playing a wide range of repertoire here. I love working at an “all-you-can-eat” musical buffet.

What's a unique/special memory you had during your first Houston Symphony season?

Literally needing ear plugs to protect my hearing from the amazingly loud, cheering crowd for Cynthia Erivo.

IN HARMONY

In the 2024–25 Season, the Symphony expanded its In Harmony program beyond DeLUXE K!ds in the Fifth Ward to serve young people in the Gulfton and Second Ward communities. In partnership with the American Festival for the Arts (AFA) and other local organizations, the In Harmony program offers free, culturally relevant music education tailored to each community's unique needs. In Gulfton, we piloted the Houston reVision In Harmony Music Series, a music literacy program in collaboration with Houston reVision that focuses on rhythm, composition, and creativity. In the Second Ward, we joined forces with Segundo Barrio Children's Chorus (SBCC)—Houston's first and only bilingual children's choir—to create En Armonía con Segundo Barrio, which provides high-quality violin instruction to SBCC students. The program welcomed 43 students to classes this season. Meanwhile, the DeLUXE K!ds In Harmony program in the Fifth Ward continued to thrive in its third year, engaging 25 students through violin lessons led by CEMs, AFA teaching artists, and Symphony musicians. Across all locations, In Harmony empowered nearly 100 young people through music education and community connection.

“Music has the power to transform lives, and we’ve seen that firsthand through the In Harmony program. Watching this program grow beyond Fifth Ward and into new communities has been incredibly rewarding. Every child, regardless of their background, deserves the opportunity to experience the joy of music. I’m so honored to be a part of this program and support the incredible work of our CEMs, CEM Teaching Artists, and community partners.”

HARRY & CORA SUE MACH STUDENT CONCERT SERIES

The Student Concert Series, curated and led by Associate Conductor Gonzalo Farias, provided low-cost full-orchestra concerts for nearly 42,000 upper elementary and middle school students at Jones Hall and other venues. Designed to introduce young students to orchestral music and encourage those already in their school's orchestra or band programs to continue playing, the series was further enhanced this season by in-school musician visits, including chamber ensemble performances and pre & post-concert classroom visits. Guided by Lead CEM Lindsey Baggett and supported by Symphony musicians, these classrooms visits help students connect emotionally with music through interactive lessons, performances, and meaningful discussions.

"Our experiences with [the CEM] brought it more on a personal level. It showed the students that, yes, these are amazing musicians, but they're also great human beings and they just love doing what they do."

—Erwin Vreugdenihl, Stovall Middle School Assistant Band Director

"In this world that is more and more competitive for people's attention, it sometimes feels like a battle to engage young musicians, but it was inspiring to see students that were really interested in what we do. And I think it was because there was that time set aside for them to really listen to the music, understand it, and be exposed to it. To see their eyes light up talking about music kind of restores your faith in the next generation."

MUSIC & WELLNESS

Each season, Symphony musicians and CEMs share music with individuals facing memory loss, illness, and isolation—bringing comfort and connection through live performance.

HOSPITAL PARTNERSHIPS

Through our partnerships with MD Anderson Cancer Center and Texas Children’s Hospital, Symphony musicians and CEMs offered bi-weekly bedside visits to pediatric patients and their families. We also again teamed up with Houston Methodist Hospital’s Center for Performing Arts Medicine for two full-orchestra lobby concerts at the hospital—a holiday concert in December, and a special performance led by Music Director Juraj Valčuha in February featuring selections from the Viva Italia! Opera Beyond Words program. The concerts reached more than 800 patients, caregivers, and medical staff both in the lobby and across eight Houston Methodist campuses via a livestream broadcast.

DEMENTIA CENTER PERFORMANCE SERIES

This season, our Dementia Center Performance Series continued to thrive with monthly visits at CarePartners and Amazing Place Dementia Day Centers where our CEMs and Symphony musicians create meaningful connections with patients and spark memories and joy through ensemble performances and interactive activities. Christian Harvey (bass), our Community-Embedded Fellow (CEF) from Rice University’s Shepherd School of Music, led the work at CarePartners, while orchestra musicians—including Keoni Bolding, Rian Craypo, and Adam Trussell—led the efforts at Amazing Place.

"Every week I’m playing on stage in a tuxedo while never interacting with the audience. And while I do adore this part of my job, I also love the performances where formalities are stripped away. I really enjoy interacting with the listeners in a way that I don’t usually get to at Jones Hall."
—Keoni Bolding, Viola

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Since 2016, the Symphony has partnered with the Prelude Music Foundation to support early childhood development through weekly Music Together® classes at 15 early childhood centers in under-resourced Houston communities. These interactive sessions use songs, movement, and live music—performed by CEMs—to foster cognitive, social, and emotional growth during the most critical years of brain development for children. The classroom visits culminated in two joyful “My First Orchestra Concert” performances involving these CEMs at Miller Outdoor Theatre, where more than 3,000 children, teachers, and families celebrated the music they had learned throughout the school year.

Studies show that structured arts activities can boost cognitive abilities in children by 17%.

CHAMBER COACHINGS

As part of our commitment to arts education, Symphony musicians provided chamber music coaching sessions for students in local high schools and community youth ensembles. During the 2024–25 Season, musicians led 84 chamber coaching sessions, providing access to specialized music instruction and supporting orchestra and band programs in the Greater Houston area.

"What I enjoy most about coaching kids is the moment when they realize they can make the violin do something new. It could be as small as a new technique or as large as finishing a whole song. They experience a feeling of accomplishment. It's great to see."
—Christopher Neal,
First Violin

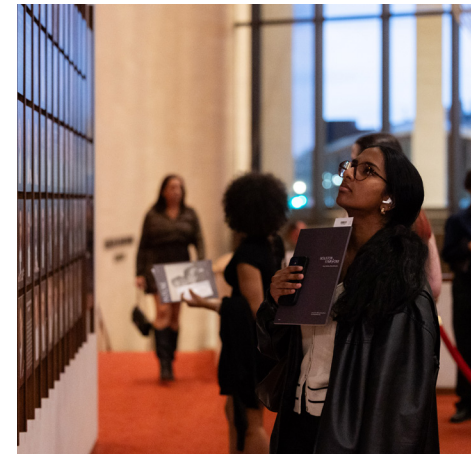

"They absolutely loved every aspect of this! For many students, this was their first Symphony experience. Opportunities like this are eye-opening for our students, and they all were buzzing about the performance and pre-concert lecture. They are coming into rehearsals invigorated and are practicing more."

—Francis Cameron Tesoro, Orchestra Director, Klein ISD

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHTS

The High School Nights program, presented by Oxy, enabled nearly 2,000 band and orchestra students to attend four Classical concerts at Jones Hall. This initiative offers participating schools deeply discounted tickets, supplemental educational materials, and enriching opportunities such as chamber music coaching sessions led by Symphony musicians and invitations to orchestra rehearsals.

STUDENT PASSES & TICKETS

The Symphony offers student ticket programs designed to make live orchestral music accessible and affordable for local high school and college students. The Student Pass provides unlimited access to most Classical and Bank of America POPS concerts throughout the season for a one-time fee of $75. Student Rush tickets are also available for $20 each for all Classical and Bank of America POPS performances. These ticket programs reflect our commitment to making live music accessible to all by removing financial barriers to attendance.

SALUTE TO EDUCATORS

On April 6, 2025, the Symphony held its annual Spec's Charitable Foundation Salute to Educators Concert, celebrating the vital role that music educators play in shaping young musicians. At the concert, Grace Lewis, the Director of Orchestras at G.W. Carver Magnet High School in Aldine ISD, was honored with the Spec's Charitable Foundation Award for Excellence in Music Education. Lewis was selected from a distinguished group of semifinalists recognized for their exceptional dedication to music education within their schools and communities.

The Salute to Educators Concert is made possible by the Houston Symphony's Principal Corporate Guarantor, Spec's Wines, Spirits & Finer Foods/Spec's Charitable Foundation. We thank them for their commitment to music education and the Houston Symphony.

HOUSTON SYMPHONY ENDOWMENT

The Houston Symphony Endowment is organized and operated exclusively for the benefit of the Houston Symphony Society. Your contributions to the Endowment ensure the financial sustainability of your orchestra now and for generations to come.

A named endowed fund is a wonderful way to honor a loved one or to celebrate you and your family’s passion for the Houston Symphony. Named funds may be permanently established within the Houston Symphony Endowment with a minimum contribution of $250,000. Your fund can be designated for general purposes or specific interests.

One of the most impactful funds you can create is an Endowed Orchestra Chair. Opportunities to endow an Orchestral Chair begin at $1,500,000. Endowing a chair provides the Houston Symphony with funds to attract, retain, and support musicians of the highest caliber.
